These pages summarize the strongest current research about what youth aged 12-25 need to thrive. Programmers who intentionally combine scientific evidence with specific knowledge of youth in their program are more likely to produce better results.

Resources Youth Who Thrive (full literature review) [PDF]

